

TERRIBLE HOLOCAUST.

THIRTY PERSONS BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED IN A BURNING HOTEL.

The Richmond Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., a Veritable Death Trap—Heard of Scarcely—Numbers Jump From the Windows and are Crushed on the Pavement Below.

BUFFALO, March 18.—Fire was discovered at 3:30 o'clock this morning in the new Richmond hotel. An alarm was sounded and the fire department responded promptly. The house contained a large number of guests, and their heartrending shrieks could plainly be heard. Ladders were raised, and as many as possible were saved, but a large number of guests were unable to effect their escape. At 4 o'clock the entire Richmond hotel, St. James's hall and other property in the block was doomed to speedy destruction. The whole place burned like a tinder-box. The corridor in the centre of the building acted as a great funnel, and as the flames streamed upward the guests found themselves imprisoned by a wall of fire. So far as can be learned the dead and fatally injured number 13, and 30 persons were seriously burned or injured. As far as can be ascertained the dead and injured are as follows:

DEAD.
Kate Kelly, servant.
Minnie Kelly, servant.
Kate Pierce, servant.
Wilson Pierce, of R. O. Gahan & Co.
Mark Osborne, day clerk at hotel.
Mr. Johnson, Toronto railway man.
Kate Wolfe of Lockport, servant.
FATALLY INJURED.
Jacob Kahn, New York.
Henry M. Ramsey, New York.
Maggie Mulvaney of Buffalo.
Mary Nolan of Buffalo.
Edward Whelan of Newburgh.

SEVERELY BURNED OR INJURED.
F. H. Finch of Scranton.
E. A. Moore of Cleveland.
W. A. Haren of Helena, Mont.
C. W. Dubois of Syracuse.
W. J. Mann of Buffalo.
Mrs. Mann of Buffalo.
Jennie Mann of Buffalo.
Miss Barse of Olean.
Mat Shannon of Buffalo.
Charles Clinton-Bell of Buffalo.
Minnie Weller of Buffalo.
Mrs. Kate Pierce of Buffalo.
Nellie Welch of Buffalo.
Nellie Harvey of Buffalo.
Harry Davies of New York.
George E. Michael of New York.
W. J. Mackey of Niagara Falls.
A servant girl named Walsh is believed also to be among the dead. The walls of the burning building are a menace to life and until they are razed and the ruins cooled no search for bodies can be made. It is undoubtedly a fact that at least 30 persons perished.

EXCITING SCENES.
The rapidity of the fire, cutting off the means of escape, led some persons to leap for life from the windows. Others got down the fire escapes or the Hayes ladders raised by the fire department. The shrieks and cries of the poor people in the upper stories of the burning structure were heartrending. One man and with terror, leaped from a third-story window and was picked up on the stone sidewalk on Main street, a mangled and bleeding corpse. Several who succeeded in making their escape were badly injured and buried, and some of these will probably die. Others, more fortunate, escaped with slight injuries. Many of the wounded were taken to Carney's saloon and afterward to the hospitals. Among these was E. H. Bryant, a New York traveling man, burned about the feet and hands. The Hon. M. W. Barse of Olean was terribly burned about the hands and wrists. Robert Stafford, senior proprietor of the hotel, with his wife occupied rooms on the second floor, and had a narrow escape. Terror overcame them, and they fled, and finally reached him just as the fire was bursting out of the window where he stood. He reached the top rung of the ladder, in safety, and descended deliberately and without the slightest sign of uneasiness or fear.

One of the most remarkable and thrilling experiences of those who escaped was that of H. P. Whitaker, a member of the firm of Safford & Co., proprietors of the hotel. He occupied a room in the fifth story, and was awakened by the ringing of an alarm bell with which each room was connected from the office. He put on a few articles of clothing, and getting out of the window walked or groped along the edge, about 40 feet, till he reached the fire escape, on which he descended in safety. The small balcony on the Main street front of the Richmond second story afforded a place of refuge for many of the occupants of the house, and from this point they were rescued with ladders.

THE NIGHT CLERK'S STORY.
William H. Alport, night clerk, states that he was sitting in the office about 3:40 o'clock when he saw a reflection on the tile floor. Turning round, he discovered a blaze in the coat and cloak room, directly under the stairway on the main floor. The flames at once darted up the elevator shaft with tremendous force, and in an incredibly short space of time the interior of the hotel was filled with smoke and flame. Then the terrible scenes began. Second and third alarms brought the entire department to the scene, but it was impossible to save any portion of the blazing structure. The fire had reached the roof in less than five minutes from the time it was discovered. It soon reached and gutted St. James's hall, occupied as Bunnell's museum, and Tivoli hall, adjoining and fronting on Washington street.

A GUEST'S STATEMENT.
H. M. Johnson, the celebrated "sprinkler" of Pittsburgh, says: "I arrived in Buffalo yesterday and was assigned to room 226 at the Richmond. About 3:30 o'clock this morning the bell boy pounded upon my door. I awoke and found my room full of smoke. I dressed quickly and rushed into the hallway, and oh, my God, what a sight! Men, women and children were perfectly wild and did not know which way to go. The women raved like maniacs and rushed pell-mell for the stairway and almost in every direction. The smoke was almost suffocating. I cannot remember anything about how I got out. I think I came down the stairway."

THE LOSSES.
The losses by fire will be $400,000 and of this amount the Buffalo library loses $130,000 on the hotel and museum buildings, which were insured for $60,000. Fuller & Townsend, clothiers, were insured for $45,000. Their stock was a total loss. The loss of $200,000. Peter Paul & Bro. and Albrecht & Kingsley, stationers, each lose $40,000, with $30,000 insurance. Several minor losses were sustained.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Celebration at St. Mary's Hall—Lecture by Rev. D. J. O'Sullivan.

St. Patrick's day was celebrated by a largely attended entertainment and lecture at St. Mary's Hall last evening. St. Mary's Benevolent society was present in a body and occupied seats in the centre of the hall, and almost every available seat was taken by the large and enthusiastic audience. The programme consisted of musical selections by Sherman's military band and the students of St. Joseph's college and a learned and eloquent address on "English Efforts to Govern Ireland," by Rev. D. J. O'Sullivan. The singing by the pupils of St. Joseph's college was spirited and showed some fine and well-trained voices, while the patriotic airs and other selections by the Sherman Military band were of the high order of excellence for which that organization is famous.

The principal feature of the evening was the lecture by Rev. D. J. O'Sullivan, president of St. Joseph's college. This lecture was listened to with deep attention and called forth frequent and hearty applause. The speaker introduced his subject by a pleasant allusion to St. Patrick's day, and continued, in brief, as follows:

When a nation becomes overgrown in material interests, and indifferent to ennobling aspirations, reminiscences of the past or hopes of the future, that nation is on the verge of decadence. In the hearts of Irishmen no characteristic is more vital nor dominant than love of country, and I do not mean by love of country the love of either Ireland or America alone, but of both. Where ever you find an Irishman you find equal love for Ireland and America. The Irishman loves America because it is the land of liberty and gentleness and fair play. He loves Ireland because she is the helpless victim of tyranny. Think not that the intense devotedness of the Irish-American to the old country is a hindrance to his American citizenship. On the contrary, when you meet an Irishman or the descendant of an Irishman who strives to conceal his name or origin, you have the worst possible material for an American citizen.

Hitherto the accustomed theme of speaking on such an occasion as this has been the faded glories of Erin. But we have to face other issues to-day, more vital, more momentous. To-day Ireland stands at the bar of human justice and demands her rights. Never did Ireland see more clearly to-day what her rights are; never was she surer of winning them. England for 700 years or more has claimed the right to govern Ireland. England has failed; now Ireland asks for a chance. The policy of England has been inhuman and cruel. Her policy has always been to get possession of the soil of Ireland, and the means she has used have been a bad government or no government. Ireland demands her own government. This is the Irish question in a nutshell. We must discuss the cause of Ireland justly and calmly as human nature will allow.

The speaker then gave a rapid sketch of the first Norman-English invasion of Ireland, and the final amalgamation of the Norman conquerors with the Celtic people. Henry the Seventh sent over to Ireland a royal deputy, who assembled a parliament, and in this parliament it was decreed that this mockery of an English Irish parliament should henceforth depend upon the English crown. This was the period of the Norman domination of Ireland. It may be asked by some why the Irish complained of their domination by England. Paradoxical as it may seem, Ireland was never conquered by the English. But the English rulers of Ireland had been conquered, would it have been right or necessary for her to have given up every inch of soil upon which her people were born? Therefore Ireland did not submit. Were it not for the English domination, Ireland would have been driven to the English soil.

We next come to the period of what may be called the reformation in Ireland. The English king declared that all Irish laws were abolished. Henry the Eighth attempted to carry out this decree. He began to persecute the Irish because they were good Catholics. We have contemplated a period of injustice, broken up now and then by a period of treachery and slaughter, of the halter and of fire. This period lasted from the reign of Henry the Seventh to the surrender of Limerick, including the violation of the treaty of Limerick, the treachery and cruelty of Cromwell and his acts of confiscation, eviction and expropriation. From the accession of William and Mary there was a period of absolute landlord domination. We find Ireland in the hands of favorites of kings and queens.

But here came a time when England was not so free to tyrannize over Ireland. It was when she began to have some trouble with Mr. Washington. At this time she authorized the Irish to defend themselves. During the reign of George the Third, the liberty and home rule were granted to the Irish Parliament. Now a word with regard to Ireland's prosperity. No nation in the world from 1782 to 1860 swelled into more opulence and prosperity than Ireland. The population grew from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000. The land was cultivated, the Irish trades and industries flourished wonderfully. But England beheld with poor grace the prosperity of her hated rival and it lasted but a few years. By bribery and deception she won the consent of the Irish Parliament and this body was abolished and Ireland was again under English bondage. During the reign of Queen Anne the Irish tenant was allowed to vote, but only as a condition of Ireland until the advent of Daniel O'Connell, who inaugurated a new era in Irish history.

The rest of English domination of Ireland belongs to modern history. The Irish are taking the advice of Parnell and are trying to allow the landlords to evict but not to vote as they demand. The result is that we have no members in the English Parliament to-day representing the English landlords. They represent the English people. I think it is evident from the facts of history that England's government of Ireland has been a failure. I think too that the dawn of Irish liberty is upon us. It rests with the Irish then to follow in the path they have been beaten out of. Their divisions are at an end. They are one people to-day. They have but one leader, their uncrowned king, Charles Stewart Parnell. What can we do to advance that cause? Be faithful, peaceable citizens. Avoid all secret clubs, societies and societies and abide by the counsel of the holy church. Let your object and your aim, as far as Ireland is concerned, be to gain the honor and approval of the civilized world. Let your watchword be "Never shall we submit to coercion and tyranny," and live in manifest hope and love and charity toward all men.

Life seems hardly worth the living to-day to many a tired, unhappy discouraged woman who is suffering from chronic rheumatism, neuralgia, or who has been able to find no relief. But there is a certain cure for all the painful complaints to which the weak sex is liable. We refer to Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" to the virtues of which thousands of women can testify. As a tonic and nerve it is unsurpassed. All druggists.

GONE WITH A MILLION.

A NEW YORK BUSINESS MAN STARTS FOR ENGLAND.

W. E. Lawton of Lawton Bros. Absconded—Converts Everything Possible into Cash and Withdraws All His Funds and Deposits—Liabilities $1,000,000.

New York, March 17.—The disappearance of W. E. Lawton of the firm of Lawton Bros., dealers in phosphates at No. 63 Broadway, has created a great deal of apprehension and it is generally believed that he is a bankrupt. He left his office Tuesday afternoon to go to his home on the Hudson and has not been seen since. To-day his cashier states that several attachments were obtained, but outside of that nothing is known. The amount of his liabilities are estimated at about $1,000,000. Sheriff Grant has seized Lawton's place of business on a creditor's claim amounting to $245,000. It is charged that Lawton has absconded to defraud his creditors, that he has disposed of his property and taken a large amount of money with him. Lawton was a director in the Delta Acetate company and was entrusted with $100,000 in notes to distribute to the company on March 13. Lawton is said to have absconded with the proceeds of the discounted notes. On Tuesday Lawton withdrew all his funds from the different banks and took the money with him and before his departure destroyed all the stubs, checks and papers of every kind from which any information could be secured as to the disposition of the funds and property. The associates of Lawton look upon his disappearance as a part of a gigantic swindle and believe he sailed on one of Wednesday's steamers. He has a brother in Sussex, England, and it is supposed he has gone there. His credit was high and he was rated at over $1,000,000 by the commercial agencies.

SPEECH BY GLADSTONE.
Will Stand Fast by Ireland During His Political Life.

LONDON, March 17.—Mr. Gladstone delivered a speech at a dinner last night given by the Yorkshire members of the House of Commons. He began by stating his belief that there was a growing opinion in favor of home rule even among its former opponents. He counselled Lord Salisbury to waken from his sleep if he wished to banish his nightmare. The premier, said Gladstone, appeared determined to remain asleep. Gladstone maintained that it was impossible to deal with other questions until the Irish question had been cleared out of the way. We are agreed, he said, that Ireland asks an effective self-government in affairs properly and exclusively Irish, subject to the unquestionable supremacy of the Imperial Parliament. Beyond this limit, I frankly tell you I could no longer promote her cause, but so long as the demands she utters are just and within the bounds of moderation, I will stand fast to her cause during what remains to me of political life. It is our duty above party considerations.

While there is so much talk about offers and proposals of conferences let us not conceal from ourselves the fact that this is strictly a question of individuals, but one of nations, and when nations collide individuals are liable to be uncomfortably squeezed. I rejoice to read what has been done and said in a spirit of approximation. I rejoice in the evidence of approximation among the liberal masses and I would wish it were the same with the liberal party. We should, however, guard against the acceptance of formulae which though appearing to make an agreement prove upon examination to be valueless.

THE NEW CARDINALS.
Imposing Ceremonies Attending Their "Hatching" at Rome.

ROME, March 18.—A public consistory was held yesterday in the Sala Regia. It began at 10:20 o'clock and concluded at noon. The procession was headed by consistorial advocates with attendants arrayed in crimson robes and ermine capes. They were followed by the cross bearer, cameriers, prelates, bishops, archbishops and cardinals. Then came the pope, who was borne on the sedia gestatoria, flanked byabella or white peacock feather fans. He was accompanied on each side by the noble guards, in blue; the Swiss Guard, officers and purple and crimson red attendants. When the pope descended from the sedia he ascended the throne which had been covered with purple cloth and cloth of gold for the Lenten season. The canopy over the throne was backed by a tapestry of Perino del Vaga, depicting the coronation of Charles V. The base of the throne were two lions couchant bearing red banners with cross keys. The cardinals occupied benches arranged in a long parallelogram in front of the pope.

The consistorial advocates advanced to the throne and read the instance for the beatification of the persons under consideration. This concluded, 16 cardinals left the hall to bring from the Sistine chapel the eight new cardinals—Archbishop Gonzales de Toledo, M. de Masella, ex-nuncio at Lisbon; Archbishop Taschereau of Quebec, Archbishop Gibbons of Baltimore, Archbishop Bernardini of Sens, Archbishop Place of Rennes, Archbishop Lagrange of Reims, and Archbishop Gordan of Ferrara. Each new cardinal was accompanied by two others. Cardinal Taschereau was accompanied by Cardinals Boncompagni and Sigillari, and Cardinal Gibbons by Cardinals Meyer and Mozella. They advanced and bowing twice kissed the pope's foot and hand, received the pope's double embrace and retired. They again advanced to the pope to receive the hat, which was brought in on a silver salver. Each cardinal knelt as he came before the pope and the hood of the robe was placed over his head by an attendant. Then the pope, taking the large red hat, placed it on the kneeling cardinal, resting his hand on it while the cardinal knelt.
